What Is a GHIN Account?

The United States Golf Association created the Golf Handicap Information Network (GHIN) to provide golfers a Handicap Index.

A GHIN Handicap Index can be used to calculate net scores for golf outings, leagues and contests at any golf course.

Golfers who have a GHIN account will be eligible to participate in the Twin Woods championship tournament in 2026.

A GHIN membership also allows golfers to play at private golf courses in the area served by the Golf Association of Philadelphia (GAP).

Golfers can view their Handicap Index on USGA's GHIN website (www.GHIN.com).

The cost of an annual GHIN account purchased at Twin Woods is $50.
